1 Multifunctional items are a useful addition to any woman's wardrobe, which is why DKNY's Cozy (HK$1,590 to HK$1,990) is likely to be popular this winter. The Cozy can be worn as a jacket, sweater and wrap – in fact there are more than 12 looks to experiment with. Choose from fabrics including linen, cashmere and merino, and a host of colours. The Cozy is available at DKNY, Fashion Walk, Causeway Bay, tel: 2890 2799.

2 The highly anticipated Jimmy Choo for H&M collection will be in stores next week. It will include a range of eye-catching styles, from thigh-high boots to the stud and eyelet heels (pictured; HK$799). Also look out for evening clutches, day bags, belts and ready-to-wear clothing featuring 1980s-inspired pieces that are bang on trend for autumn, such as the jumpsuit (pictured; HK$599). There's also a selection of men's shoes and clothing including wool blazers, biker jackets, sweaters, shirts and trousers. The collection is available at H&M, 68 Queen's Road Central, tel: 2110 9546.

3 Looking for an affordable gift or stocking filler for Christmas? Denim boutique Indigo (32A, Staunton Street, Central, tel: 2147 3000) has commissioned the designers of Chako bags, known for hip clutches made from vintage kimonos, to design the Niji cardholder (HK$320), an affordable but chic gift for women and perfect for storing in a sleek bag on nights out.
